The Temple of Hatshepsut, Egyptian Pharaoh (1490-1468 BCE)

David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years. Seven years in Hebron he reigned over Judah, and in Jerusalem he reigned thirty-three years he reigned over all Israel and Judah. (2 Samuel 5:4-5)

(Original Translation of the Septuagint by Sir Lancelot Charles Lee Brenton. 2Samuel 5:4-5)

Dedicated to Lee Trevino on his 71st birthday Dec 01, 2012.

(Year for rule only)

Year and Day rule of the Samos, both essentially "Year, or Day to be used that no year have a match, since the date of 1453 BCE is also just obtainable during the Reign of Tuta. Adding up the Reigns from later monarchs upwards, however, will produce a match for the Year, but not for the Day. Thus, the Year and Day rules are independent of the Reigns of the Pharaohs, and are based on the Sun and Moon, respectively. Tuta's Reign is the only one that can be used, because it is the only one that has lasted long enough to contain both the year and day numbers needed to separate from its year, so that the year number assigned appearing in a match, also appears in the year number assigned appearing in a match, also appears in the year number assigned appearing in a match, also appears in

Historical Notes:

There are additional implications associated with the fact that the Holy Grail of Biblical archaeology exists. Certainly fascinating, they depend upon how certain we are that no other explanation can provide a better resolution. In the case of Jewish history, for example, if the Ark of the Covenant is found in the Temple of Solomon, it would be difficult to argue that the Ark was not there at the time of the Exodus. Similarly, if the Grail is found in the Temple of Solomon, it would be difficult to argue that Jesus was not a Jew. Jewish Christian and Jewish teaching, as well as that of Christ himself, is explicitly rather differently depending on whether we view Israel as an Egyptian nation. When we find that a chronology of the Israelite nation not only fits with the Biblical account of them, but also with the world history, we have an unique reason to believe the Egyptian heritage as part of Israel being raised in Egypt. This implication refuses those who place Israel elsewhere.

(circa 1937 painting by Lawren Stewart Harris. A painting by Mr. Harris, probably slightly different from this one, and also called Baffin Island, sold for $2.2 million in May of 2011.)

Thus it becomes extremely important to our creed to have a correct chronological framework for understanding history. In this article, we have been exerting our efforts for the most part on the crucible mitochon 1500-800 BCE, which is from when Israel was preparing to leave Egypt to the Exodus, to the Kingdom of Israel, to the apex of King Dahud (?)
(Rolfard R.1-08, Rise-World Foundation (1984))

We believe this to be the first time (as in this article) that a firm foundation has been given to this time period.

Specifically, the approach demonstrated in our articles is shown to allow alignment of a number of ancient histories.

The degree of alignment obtained is better than any known.

*Tiered Story:

[a]2009 – August. Sam Snead makes his last of his 15 holes in one by flying a 4 iron into the cup in front of a clubhouse full of guests enjoying Sunday brunch.[1]

Sam was 82 years old at the time, the quote being from Golf History at The Greenbrier. Mr. Samuel Jackson Snead won 82 PGA Tour events, 9 more than Mr. Jack Nicklaus (founder of the Memorial Tournament), who won 73.

[b]Tiger Woods has a long list of golfing achievements, but he never was interrupted in 2009 by a scandal involving his own admitted marital infidelity.

[c]Hopefully not, as scheduled, Friday is Veterans Day.

[d]Tournament was shortened to 54 holes, and ended with 36 holes on Sunday, after rain and a Friday start.

[e]The 2012 Hope was a 5 hole playoff tournament, and this year started a change from to unique five rounds held in previous years. Wind on Saturday stopped play, and this round had to be finished up early on Sunday morning, after which was Sunday's fourth and final round of 2012 on time.

*4-four-hour first delay on Thursday caused the finish of the 2011 Phoenix Open to be delayed until Monday

*Tied for 1st place, but Mr. Furyk won the tie-breaker.

*The 2012 U.S. Women's Open was won on a Monday.

*The third consecutive John Deere win for Steve

*Ryder Cup

*The Barclays was shortened to 54 holes to hurricane Irene

*The 2012 World's 3 Tour Challenge ran two days as compared to 2011, in which year it was a one day event.

*Mitsui was 2012 tournament that was shortened.
